

ABSTRACT

A method for assembling a first and a second wafer of material, including routing at least the first wafer and assembling the first and second wafer.